Be Independent, Be You.

My name is Marshfield Siegler and I have been independent on my own for two years now. I am 24 years old. I live in Stevens Point, Wisconsin in an apartment and I love my home there. I have gotten several new interests over the last two years. I like Mulan because she is brave and good looking, and I like the Hmong Culture because it is such an interesting and one-of-a-kind culture. I also love to travel and see the people from my Facebook page. I love to play and sing music and hold church services in my home every Saturday evening. One thing I dream of is getting along better with my younger sister. One thing I wish for is to be a good musician someday. I look forward to getting new followers on my page, new things I like and taking trips all the time. I hope you enjoyed my issue on What's the Word and it is always an honor to be recognized. Thank you.
